REPORT NO. [REDACTED]

1. On 20 August 1950, Yugoslav officials scattered political propaganda material, printed in both Serbo-Croatian and Bulgarian, in the pullman cars of the Orient Express on the Belgrade to Dragoman (Bulgaria) run.
2. In Dragoman an unidentified Bulgarian captain, in charge of a local militia unit, stated that Yugoslav authorities have been placing propaganda material in the trains for some time. He declared that the Bulgarians are contemplating prohibiting Yugoslav train conductors from entering Bulgarian territory because on one of the recent trips of the Orient Express a huge pile of propaganda material was found in one of the cars.
3. The captain further stated that Yugoslav troops which had been stationed on the Bulgarian border in July 1950 were transferred in August to the Hungarian border.
